

Newport Terminal Newsletter Issue 4

Welcome

Welcome to our annual community newsletter. The aim of our newsletter is to provide an overview of what has been happening at Newport Terminal and Viva Energy.

New Jet Fuel Tank

As part of Viva Energy's long-term plans for safe and reliable supply of Jet Fuel to Melbourne Airport, we are currently replacing a fuel storage tank at Newport Terminal.

The 18 month project commenced in September and involves the demolition and removal of an existing fuel tank before construction of the new tank within the Western Tank Farm.

The replacement tank will help meet the growing demand for Jet Fuel at Melbourne Airport.

Developments Near Major Hazard Facilities

Viva Energy operates the Newport Terminal and several licenced pipelines in the Hobson's Bay area. The terminal site is designated as a Major Hazard Facility (MHF) under Victoria's Work Health & Safety laws.

Proposed developments that are in close proximity to MHFs and licenced pipelines need to be carefully managed so that intensification by increasing population density or a shift to sensitive land uses are avoided.

It is important that any plans for development are advised to Viva Energy in the concept stages to ensure that risk-informed land use planning practices can be adopted.

Information to planning authorities about the requirements when developing land near MHFs and licenced pipelines can be provided by WorkSafe Victoria and Energy Safe Victoria (ESV) respectively.

Maintenance Program

As part of our ongoing tank maintenance program, three tanks were cleaned and inspected in 2017.

The works formed part of our preventative maintenance and inspection program of our bulk storage tanks at Newport Terminal.

Managing the safe and reliable importation, handling, storage and distribution of fuel at Newport Terminal is a key priority for Viva Energy.

Supercars Championship Newcastle 500

The Supercars Championship is coming to a close for the 2017 season. The Shell V-Power racing team is set to race at the Newcastle 500 in November.

The circuit will host the final round of the Supercars Championship for the first time.

Did you know, to get the track ready for the event, 100 tonnes of Viva Energy's bitumen was used to surface the high stressed corners of the Newcastle Street circuit.

Season's Greetings

From everyone at our Newport Terminal we wish you and your family a Merry Christmas and a safe and happy festive season.
